ARCHIBISHOP TO BE HERE FOR CHURCH DEDICATION

Sunday's Program Outlined by Russian Congregation.

MANY SOCIETIES COMING

Three Thousand Visitors Expected to Attend Imposing Services.

It is expected that fully 3,000 visitors, consisting partly of Russian societies along the valley, will be present next Sunday, Oct ber 9 at the dedication of St John the Baptist Russian Orthodix church, at the corner of Tenth street and Lookout avenue. Archbishop Platon of New York city and Bishop Alexander from the same place have announced definitely that they will be here and have charge of the dedicatory ceremonies.

Not only Archbishop Platon and Bishop Alexander are coming but also a number of other church dignataries from New York and Pittsburg and priests from nearby towns. Russian societies will be here from places between Pittsburg and Brownsville, and they will be met at the point of their arrival at 9 o'clock by reception committee with bands at the Monessen bridge and at the railroad station.

The services, which will be very imposing, will start promptly at 11 o'clock. The first will be the altar blessing and the church blessing will follow, to be followed by holy mass. A special choir from Allegheny will be here to assist the Charleroi choir.

The church has recently been repainted and thoroughly renovated. The sum of $3,000 has been expended on interior decorations, and hand painted canvass decorations have been hung. The church is entirely free from debt, a mortgage of $3,000, having recently been paid. The Russian congregation, numbering about 400, has been in possession of the church for sometime, but it has never been dedicated. It is the laudable custom of the Russians never to dedicate a church edifice until it is entirely paid for.

The rector is Rev. J. Sechinsky who, has done much to prepare the church for dedication. He has since assuming the charge here collected about $2,200 for carrying on the work here. He has extended a cordial invitation to all his English speaking friends to be present at the dedication next Sunday.

SUPERINTENDENTS TO BE APPOINTED

Many Important Matters to be Taken Up at Methodist Conference.

The Pittsburg Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church will open this afternoon, and Rev. A. M. Doak the pastor of the local church, is in attendance. There are many important matters to come up at the conference among which will be the appointment of three district superintendents to succeed the three whose term has expired. The present superintendents are Rev. G. W. Trebush, Washington district; Rev. T. N. Boyle, Allegheny district; and Rev. James Mechem of the Blairsville district.

Woman Upsets Lamp Then Rings Alarm

Fire Department Responds But Fire is Quickly Extinguished.

When a Slavish woman upset an oil lamp at her home on Fallowfield avenue, a short distance below Ninth street last night, the neigbhors became very much excited, and a fire alarm was turned in. The fire company responded promptly but before they arrived on the scene the woman had extinguished the flames herself. No damage was done.

OBSERVING NEW YEAR

Jewish Population of Charleroi Remember Holiday.

The Jewish people of Charleroi, as well as the whole country, are today celebrating the Jewish New Year, which began at sundown last evening. The observances will continue until sundown tonight, until which time all places of business of the race are closed and the entire time given over to religious rites.

The majority of the Hebrewsof Charleroi are in attendance at the services in the Bank of Charleroi hall today, but some have gone to Pittsburg, or to Monessen. At the Bank Hall Rabbi O. Suber of Pittsburg is conducting the services.

This holiday is as old as the Jewish people. There are the usual evening prayers, and in addition the holiday prayers, which in the quaint melodies they have been set to by the cantors of the mediaeval ages, are a source of inspiration and the cause of the shedding of many tears. Every Hebrew must pray for himself at this time He cannot delegate some one else to do it for him.

During today's services the shofar, or ram's horn, which is a call for the departed to intercede for the living, was blown.

Between the New Year and the day of Atonement which this year, falls on October 13, it is the custom to visit the graves of the dead and to pray for the repose of their souls.

The Day of Atonement service eclipses those of the New Year in their solemnity. It is the fast day. In the evening the Kol Nidre, a prayer to God for the preservation of the lives of the people for another year, is sung by the cantor and his choir. Each member of the congregation is also supposed to say this for himself. At the end of the 24 hours of fast and prayer, the shofar is again blown and the services are at an end.

Notice to the Public

Notice is hereby given that my wife, Bessie Perry, having left my home without just cause or provocation, I will pay no bills that she may contract.

WASHINGTON GROWS FAST

More Than Doubles Population in Ten Years.

CENSUS REPORT IS MADE

Washington proper is just 145 per cent larger than it was in 1900, according to census figures just made public. The present population of the county seat is 18,778, as compared with the 7,670 of 10 years ago. The increase has been largely due to increased territory, Washington having taken in since 1900 North Washington, South Washington, West Washington and a part of a township.

In 1900 there were only four wards at Washington, the census showing a population in each of 1,654, 2,571, 1,905 and 1,540 respectively. There has been no material change in these it is stated, but with the addition of other wards the town has been enabed to show the big gain. The seventh ward is the largest, it being estimated that it contains something over 4,000 of a population. The next largest, it is thought, is the eighth ward.

The population of East Washington, the only adjoining borough now without the fold of Washington proper, is 1,300, an increase of 249 over the population of 1900. Washington is the first borough in the county to receive the census report.

FIRE DEPARTMENT GETS OUT QUICK

Business Man Congratulates Local Volunteers on Efficiency.

To the Editor of the Charleroi Mail:

Permit me through the medium of your paper to congratulate the Charleroi Volunteer Fire company for the fine showing made last night when the alarm came in from box No. 24. It is most remarkable that in a town like Charleroi, to have a department unpaid, to respond with full equipment, both chemical and ladder wagons, and be on the street in less than five minutes from the sound of the first alarm. It gave to all spectators a very metropolitan showing, and the citizens and business people particularly should feel very proud of such a company. The boys certainly deserve very great credit for their quick reponse, and should be fully appreciated for their services without pay.

A Business Man.

PENNSYLVANIA TO COUNT PASSENGERS

The Pennsylvania is considering the installation at the Union station, Pittsburg, of an ingenious device for registering, automaically, the number of passengers passing through the gates to board trains. The apparatus comprises a steam of compressed air which plays continuously across the passageway and holds open the circuit in an electrical instrument, except when it is interrupted by the body of the person traversing the passageway. These interruptions are duly registered and show the number of persons passing through the gates with unerring accuracy.

Want Golden Bill

William McFall was in Greensburg Saturday night to attend a meeting of Civil Service men. Efforts are being made to have the next Congress pass the Golden retirement bill for Civil Service men in preference to the Chillete bill, and this matter was taken up at the meeting. The former is for pensioning the employes without cost to them, while the Chillette bill puts the entire cost of pensioning on the employes in such a way it is claimed as to make it a hardship on them.

Jesse Wagner, the local Adams Express agent, is helping out today the Brownsville agent, who is sick.

BERRY WILL DRAW THIRD

Washington County For Tener First and Foremost.

GRIM THE SECOND BEST

The appearance of Congressman John K. Tener, Republican candidate for Governor and his campaigning party in the western part of the State has given fresh impetus to Republican prospects in this section. Owing to the noise being made by the efforts of former Congressman E. F. Acheson and his two personal newspapers, the Washington Observer and Reporter, the impression has been sown broadcast throughout the State that Washington county is a hotbed of political rebellion against Republicanism, and that the G. O. P. has nothing left but its name to proclaim is existence. Mr. Acheson's papers have been industriously circulating reports that Tener cannot carry his own county, and that Berry is a dead sure winner in Washington by a large majority.

Nothing is further from the truth. What is quite likely to happen in Washington county is that Berry will come in at the end of the race a low third. Grim, the Democratic candidate for Governor, will probably poll between 4,000 and 5,000 votes. It will hustle Berry to poll 2,500, although if he gets the Prohibition vote, he may poll as high as 3,000, but this is extremely doubtful. Rev. Frank Fish, the Prohibition candidate for Congress in this district two years ago, polled 3,388 votes in Washington county. This was the year of Acheson's defeat for renomination for Congress by Tener, and the former promptly bolted the ticket and supported Fish, the Prohibition candidate. In this he was supported by many of his friends, who since that time have seen the futility of bucking the Republican party just to satisfy the spleen of Mr. Acheson, and have returned to the fold. At the same time that year the Democrats polled 5,249 votes in Washington county for Charles H. Aiken, the Democratic candidate for Congress.

Every previous election in Washington county has demonstrated that there are not less than 4,500 Democrats in Washington county who will vote their straight ticket regardless of all fusions or attempted combinations. These are the ones who believe in the Jeffersonian doctrine, and vote the party ticket straight from principle. The number is normally about 5,000, if an average vote is gotten out, but with a light vote the Democratic party strength rarely falls as low as 4,000. With no organization, or funds or even sentiment outside of the Acheson papers, the Berry ticket has not nearly so great a following as had the Lincoln Republican ticket two years ago, when they put up their desperate fight against Acheson's domination in Washington county. Then the kickers had the issue of bossism in the county, as Acheson slated and nominated every candidate for county office. He had the support of the liquor interests, and his organization levied tribute and collected money from all the saloons in the county for campaign expenses. Mr. Acheson also had a couple of thousand dollars or more from the National Republican campaign committee, in addition to the fund his agents collected from the liquor interests, which, as one of the workers has since declared, "spoiled the county from that time on in making campaigns." Yet with all these issues and an aggressive Lincoln party organization the latter polled but a trifle more than 2,500 votes for its party ticket. John K. Tener is more likely than otherwise to poll from 8,000 to 10,000 votes in Washington county, and to lead Grim, his next highest opponent, by from 4,000 to 5,000. Every Democratic vote for Berry only increases Tener's plurality.

Because of the Democratic indorsements in the district the Keystoners are running up against all sorts of trouble. In Washington county Acheson has had the Keystone party indorse Wilson the Democratic candidate for Congress, Judson, the Democratic candidate for Senator, and Post, one of their Democratic candidates for Assembly in opposition to Chas. A. Bentley of Monongahela. Acheson's papers try to justify these

Washington's Centennial

Washington, our county seat, is celebrating its centennial this week. The exercises began with special sermons and church services Sunday, and an interesting program will be carried out each day throughout the week. These execises have been arranged to exemplify typical phases which have figured in the wonderful development of the town during the past century, emphasized by a modern application.

Named for the immortal George Washington, patriot, soldier and statesman, the county has had a history that is glorious in the annals of American liberty. One of the first communities in the State to be settled west of the Allegheny mountains, and close to the scene of the early activities of the Great Washington, the community has figured prominently in every epoch of American history. Founded by a group of hardy, God-fearing people, the school house and the church "were built the self-same day," and as one of the early seats of learning it has furnished a roster of names that is eminent in the annals of intellectual and material achievement. The town and county has also a long line of distinguished soldiers and patriots who have contributed to the advancement of the American spirit, and Old Glory never had more patriotic and ardent defenders than have gone forth from Washington county to uphold and maintain the spirit of liberty on land and on sea.

Rich in historical associations that are great in peace as well as in war, the Washington centennial celebration will appeal to every loyal citizen of the county. The history of Washington during the past century is the history of the whole country, and its achievements are ample cause for the jubilee that is accorded this felicitous anniversary.

What it Means

The closing of the Eclipse mine above Charleroi on account of low water in the Ohio river is but one of the many examples of the checks to industry in this community because of the lack of inland waterways improvements. At this particular time the shutdown is unfortunate, as this mine in connection with those of the river district at large has been having an unusually good run this season. Because of the strike in the Illinois and other fields the mines of the Pittsburg district have been running unusually good this summer. But for that, operators say this would have been an unusually slack season in mining circles throughout this district.

From this it will be seen how important to this section is the policy of the improvement of the Ohio river to which the Government is committed to complete within the next twelve years. In a recent speech President Taft expressed the hope that this time might be shortened to six years. This cannot be accomplished unless Congress is in accord with the President's views on this subject. This is why it is important that Republicans should support Charles Matthews for Congress from this district this fall. Mr. Matthews has been nominated to succeed Congressman J. K. Tener as representative for this district, and he is eminently qualified to look after the interests so important to the river district and the industrial development of the whole community. The continuation of the river improvement policy means a whole lot to the coal mining interests of the valley.

What Would They Do?

Touching upon the Democratic campaign charge of Republican extravagance President Taft in his masterly speech before the National Republican League in New York Saturday declared that the net expense for running the government was not over a billion dollars but about $650,000,000 annually. The Postoffice Department alone whose appropriation is $250,000,000 is self-sustaining practically. In this connection the President pertinently inquires:

"Our Democratic friend are saying that if the Democratic party came into power it would reduce the expenses of this Government $300,000,000. Do they mean that the Democrats would abolish the pension list? Do they mean that they would give up the navy and disband the army? Do they mean that they would abandon Porto Rico and the Sandwich Islands and the Philippines? Let us have a little specification. What are such statements worth unless the gentlemen who make them give just the details of the expenditures that they criticise and expect to avoid if they are left into power and become themselves the National Government?"

The Cry of the Age is "Back to the Farm"

With the best market in the world at his door, the intensive farmer located in the Monongahela valley is the wise man of his generation.

Every town has as much need of the small truck, fruit and poultry farms around it as it has for more factories. Such farms make living better and cheaper for the laboring man and more business for the merchant.

I have secured control of a large farm within five minutes walk of the borough limits and will, within the next six weeks, sell it out in small farms. I now have purchasers for about one-half of it and owing to the great demand for small farms near Charleroi expect to close all sales for these farms in a very short time.

A farm big enough for all the boys to work as a truck, poultry and fruit farm while the father works at the mill, can be bought for the price of a cheap town lot. Good country school nearby.

A farm big enough to require the whole time of one intensive farmer can be bought for $500.00. Read the Pittsburg papers about the great land show which will be held there within the next few weeks and learn what can be raised on a few acres of ground by the new methods of intensive farming.

indorsements on the grounds that the Republican candidates are not for local option, although none of the Democratic candidates have thus declared themselves. On the other hand, this action of indorsing Democratic candidates for Congress and the Legislature is not relished by the Keystoners of Lawrence county, who, while supporting Berry, are dead against Wilson and strong for Matthews, the Republican candidate for Congress, and the two Republican candidates for the Legislature. Acheson, however got the Keystone committee at Philadelphia to indorse Wilson, and his name will appear on the entire Keystone ticket in the district. The Lawrence county Keystoners will instruct their workers to cut Wilson, and this action will not win for them many Democratic votes, and at the same time will lose them many Republicans who might have voted for Berry on State issues had not Acheson and his crowd of soreheads tried to lug their personal animosities into the campaign.

Since Grim, the Democratic candidate for Governor, has refused to withdraw with Berry and effect a fusion with the Keystone ticket, the few Republican papers that have been knocking the candidacy of Tener make no effort to conceal their chagrin. Among these are the Philadephia, North American, the Pittsburg Leader, and the smaller fry, the Washington Observer and Reporter. Since they now see that all hopes of a fighting chance for the head of the ticket are gone, these papers are advising the Keystoners to redouble their effort against the Republican candidates for Congress and the Legislature, as that is the only blow they can hope to inflict on the Republican party in the State.

As a matter of fact none of these papers are really for Berry; they are simply against the State administration, and they are knocking Tener, not to help Berry so much as to oppose the State Republican organization. None of these larger papers will go so far as to jeopardize their standing as Republican organs, but at the same time they represent minority factions and propose to knock until things come their way. When the Pittsburg Leader representative was in Charleroi at the time of the opening of the campaign, he was asked by the Mail representative if his paper proposed to support Berry.

"No," he replied, "we don't like Berry.

"Will you support Grim?"

"No, we're Republicans."

"What are you going to do, then"

"Knock; just simply knock. We're agin' the present administration and propose to knock it."

To a prominent Pittsburg newspaper man some of the Philadelphia North American people confided that that paper would not support Berry on his merits, as it was a hopeless cause, but they would express their disapproval of the present State administration in every possible manner. As for the Acheson papers, they are simply out for revenge, and would sacrifice the interests of the entire county and district in order that Mr. Acheson might "lay a little flattering unction to his soul."

In the meantime the Tener campaign is progressing smoothly, and Mr. Tener is gaining ground everywhere he goes. He was at New Castle last night, and will be in Sharon this evening. He will be in Washington Friday, which is distinguished visitors day on the centennial program, and will finish the week in the western part of the State.

Slight Damage

But little damage was done by a small fire which broke out this afternoon at 2 o'clock on the shingle roof of James Thompson's residence at 21 Third street. A Hussey-Binns volunteer fire brigade by the aid of the plants fire fighting apparatus extinguish the flames before the quick arrival of the fire department.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

A Tree Cut Down by Rifle Bullets.

In the sanguinary annals of the American war there was no more sanguinary episode than the fight in 1864 of "the Bloody Angle at Spottsylvania." "Every bush and every sapling that constituted the thicket there," says Mr. G. C. Eggleston in his "History of the Confederate War," "was cut away by a stream of bullets as grass is before a mower's scythe. Even an oak tree nearly two feet thick was worn in two near its base by the continual and incessant stroke of leaden balls until it fell, crushing some of the Confederates who were fighting beneath its branches."

SAVED DAUGHTER'S LIFE

This Father Refused to Let His Daughter Die

Here is a story with a moral that many parents might take to heart.

My daughter was very pale, nervous, thin, and suffered with severe pain in her back, so that we took her out of school. Her flesh became blue and she could not retain her urine. I spent over $100 for medicines, but she grew worse. Finally bought a bottle of Thompson's Barosma and she began to grow better right away. Five bottles of Thompson's Barosma made a complete cure, and today she is a perfectly healthy.

Thompson's Barosma saved her life, for she was failing so fast that death was not far off."—Frank D. Meeder, Pleasantville, Pa.

This letter will not surprise many good people in Charleroi and vicinity who know from actual experience what Thompson's Barosma, the safe and sane treatment and certain cure for all kidney, liver and bladder diseases, will do.

If you are troubled with backache, side ache, weakness in the back, or any liver or kidney trouble, then it's time for Thompson's Barosma.

W. F. Hennings sells Thompson's Barosma in two sizes, 50 cents and $1 00 and he guarantees it to cure Bright's disese, diabetes, high colored urine, bed-wetting, and all other kidney and liver disease. It will make anyone vigorous in a few weeks, because it is a great tonic and maker of rich red blood.

ARCHIBISHOP TO BE HERE FOR CHURCH DEDICATION

Sunday's Program Outlined by Russian Congregation.

MANY SOCIETIES COMING

Three Thousand Visitors Expected to Attend Imposing Services.

It is expected that fully 3,000 visitors, consisting partly of Russian societies along the valley, will be present next Sunday, Oct ber 9 at the dedication of St John the Baptist Russian Orthodix church, at the corner of Tenth street and Lookout avenue. Archbishop Platon of New York city and Bishop Alexander from the same place have announced definitely that they will be here and have charge of the dedicatory ceremonies.

Not only Archbishop Platon and Bishop Alexander are coming but also a number of other church dignataries from New York and Pittsburg and priests from nearby towns. Russian societies will be here from places between Pittsburg and Brownsville, and they will be met at the point of their arrival at 9 o'clock by reception committee with bands at the Monessen bridge and at the railroad station

The services, which will be very imposing, will start promptly at 11 o'clock. The first will be the altar blessing and the church blessing will follow, to be followed by holy mass. A special choir from Allegheny will be here to assist the Charleroi choir.

The church has recently been repainted and thoroughly renovated. The sum of $3,000 has been expended on interior decorations, and hand painted canvass decorations have been hung. The church is entirely free from debt, a mortgage of $3,000, having recently been paid. The Russian congregation, numbering about 400, has been in possession of the church for sometime, but it has never been dedicated. It is the laudable custom of the Russians never to dedicate a church edifice until it is entirely paid for.

The rector is Rev. J. Sechinsky who, has done much to prepare the church for dedication. He has since assuming the charge here collected about $2,200 for carrying on the work here. He has extended a cordial invitation to all his English speaking friends to be present at the dedication next Sunday.

SUPERINTENDENTS TO BE APPOINTED

Many Important Matters to be Taken Up at Methodist Conference.

The Pittsburg Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church will open this afternoon, and Rev. A. M. Doak the pastor of the local church, is in attendance. There are many important matters to come up at the conference among which will be the appointment of three district superintendents to succeed the three whose term has expirad. The present superintendents are Rev. G. W. Trebush, Washington district; Rev. T. N. Boyle, Allegheny district; and Rev. James Mechem of the Blairsville district.

No damage was done.

OBSERVING NEW YEAR

Jewish Population of Charleroi Remember Holiday.

The Jewish people of Charleroi, as well as the whole country, are today celebrating the Jewish New Year, which began at sundown last evening. The observances will continue until sundown tonight, until which time all places of business of the race are closed and the entire time given over to religious rites.

The majority of the Hebrewsof Charleroi are in attendance at the services in the Bank of Charleroi hall today, but some have gone to Pittsburg, or to Monessen. At the Bank Hall Rabbi O. Suber of Pittsburg is conducting the services.

This holiday is as old as the Jewish people. There are the usual evening orayers, and in addition the holiday prayers, which in the quaint melodies they have been set to by the cantors of the mediaeval ages, are a source of inspiration and the cause of the shedding of many tears. Every Hebrew must pray for himself at this time He cannot delegate some one else to do it for him.

During today's services the shofar, or ram's horn, which is a call for the departed to intercede for the living, was blown.

Between the New Year and the day of Atonement which this year, falls on October 18, it is the custom to visit the graves of the dead and to pray for the repose of their souls.

The Day of Atonement service eclipses those of the New Year in their solemnity. It is the fast day. In the evening the Kol Nidre, a prayer to God for the preservation of the lives of the people for another year, is sung by the cantor and his choir. Each member of the congregation is also supposed to say this for himself. At the end of the 24 hours of fast and prayer, the shofar is again blown and the services are at an end.

Notice to the Public

Notice is hereby given that my wife, Bessie Perry, having left my home without just cause or provocation, I will pay no bills that she may contract.

WASHINGTON GROWS FAST

More Than Doubles Population in Ten Years.

CENSUS REPORT IS MADE

Washington proper is just 145 per cent larger than it was in 1900, according to census figures [illegible] public The present population of the county seat is 18.778, as compared with the 7,670 of 10 years ago The increase has been largely due to increased territory, Washington having taken in since 1900 North Washington, South Washington, West Washington and a part of a township.

In 1900 there were only four wards at Washington, the census showing a population in each of 1,654, 2,571, 1,905 and 1,540 respectively. There has been no material change in these it is stated, but with the addition of other wards the town has been enabed to show the big gain. The seventh ward is the largest, it being estimated that it contains something over 4,000 of a population. The next largest, it is thought, is the eighth ward.

The population of East Washington, the only adjoining borough now without the fold of Washington proper, is 1,300, an increase of 249 over the population of 1900. Washington is the first borough in the county to receive the census report.

FIRE DEPARTMENT GETS OUT QUICK

Business Man Congratulates Local Volunteers on Efficiency.

To the Editor of the Charleroi Mail:

Permit me through the medium of your paper to congratulate the Charleroi Volunteer Fire company for the fine showing made last night when the alarm came in from box No. 24. It is most remarkable that in a town like Charleroi, to have a department unpaid, to respond with full equipment, both chemical and ladder wagons, and be on the street in less than five minutes from the sound of the first alarm. It gave to all spectators a very metropolitan showing, and the citizens and business people particularly should feel very proud of such a company. The boys certainly deserve very great credit for their quick reponse, and should be fully appreciated for their services without pay.

A Business Man.

PENNSYLVANIA TO COUNT PASSENGERS

The Pennsylvania is considering the installation at the Union station, Pittsburg, of an ingenious device for registering, automaically, the number of passengers passing through the gates to board trains. The apparatus comprises a steam of compfessed air which plays continuously across the passageway and holds open the circuit in an electrical instrument, except when it is interrupted by the body of the person traversing the passageway. These interruptions are duly registered and show the number of persons passing through the gates with unerring accuracy.

Want Golden Bill

William McFall was in Greensburg Saturday night to attend a meeting of Civil Service men. Efforts are being made to have the next Congress pass the Golden retirement bill for Civil Service men in preference to the Chillete bill, and this matter was taken up at the meeting. The former is for pensioning the employes without cost to them, while the Chillette bill puts the entire cost of pensioning on the employes in such a way it is claimed as to make it a hardship on them.

Jesse Wagner, the local Adams Express agent, is helping out today the Brownsville agent, who is sick.

BERRY WILL DRAW THIRD

Washington County For Tener First and Foremost.

GRIM THE SECOND BEST

The appearance of Congressman John K Tener, Republican candidate [illegible] party in the western part of the State has given fresh impetus to Republican prospects in this section. Owing to the noise being made by the efforts of former Congressman E F. Acheson and his two personal newspapers, the Washington Observer and Reporter, the impression has been sown broadcast throughout the State that Washington county is a hotbed of political rebellion against Republicanism, and that the G. O. P. has nothing left but its name to proclaim is existence. Mr. Acheson's papers have been industriously circulating reports that Tener cannot carry his own county, and that Berry is a dead sure winner in Washington by a large majority.

Nothing is further from the truth What is quite likely to happen in Washington county is that Berry will come in at the end of the race a low third. Grim, the Democratic candidate for Governor, will probably poll between 4,000 and 5,000 votes. It will hustle Berry to poll 2,500, although if he gets the Prohibition vote, he may poll as high as 3,000, but this is extremely doubtful Rev. Frank Fish, the Prohibition candidate for Congress in this district two years ago, polled 3,388 votes in Washington county. This was the year of Acheson's defeat for renomination for Congress by Tener, and the former promptly bolted the ticket and supported Fish, the Prohibition candidate. In this he was supported by many of his friends, who since that time have seen the futility of bucking the Republican party just to satisfy the spleen of Mr. Acheson, and have returned to the fold. At the same time that year the Democrats polled 5,249 votes in Washington county for Charles H. Aiken, the Democratic candidate for Congress.

Every previous election in Washington county has demonstrated that there are not less than 4,500 Democrats in Washington county who will vote their straight ticket regardless of all fusions or attempted combinations. These are the ones who believe in the Jeffersonian doctrine, and vote the party ticket straight from principle. The number is normally about 5,000, if an average vote is gotten out, but with a light vote the Democratic party strength rarely falls as low as 4,000. With no organization, or funds or even sentiment outside of the Acheson papers, the Berry ticket has not nearly so great a following as had the Lincoln Republican ticket two years ago, when they put up their desperate fight against Acheson's domination in Washington county. Then the kickers had the issue of bossism in the county, as Acheson slated and nominated every candidate for county office. He had the support of the liquor interests, and his organization levied tribute and collected money from all the saloons in the county for campaign expenses. Mr. Acheson also had a couple of thousand dollars or more from the National Republican campaign committee, in addition to the fund his agents collected from the liquor interests, which, as one of the workers has since declared, "spoiled the county from that time on in making campaigns." Yet with all these issues and an aggressive Lincoln party organization the latter polled but a trifle more than 2,500 votes for its party ticket. John K. Tener is more likely than otherwise to poll from 8,000 to 10,000 votes in Washington county, and to lead Grim, his next highest opponent, by from 4,000 to 5,000. Every Democratic vote for Berry only increases Tener's plurality.

Because of the Democratic indorsements in the district the Keystoners are running up against all sorts of trouble. In Washington county Acheson has had the Keystone party indorse Wilson the Democratic candidate for Congress. Judson, the Democratic candidate for Senator, and Post, one of their Democratic candidates for Assembly in opposition to Chas. A. Bentley of Monongahela. Acheson's papers try to justify these

Washington, our county seat, is celebrating its centennial this week. The exercises began with special sermons and church services Sunday, and an interesting program will be carried out each day throughout the week. These execises have been arranged to exemplify typical phases which have figured in the wonderful development of the town during the past century, emphasized by a modern application.

Named for the immortal George Washington, patriot, soldier and statesman, the county has had a history that is glorious in the annals of American liberty. One of the first communities in the State to be settled west of the Allegheny mountains, and close to the scene of the early activities of the Great Washington, the community has figured prominently in every epoch of American history. Founded by a group of hardy, God-fearing people, the school house and the church "were built the self-same day," and as one of the early seats of learning it has furnished a roster of names that is eminent in the annals of intellectual and material achievement. The town and county has also a long line of distinguished soldiers and patriots who have contributed to the advancement of the American spirit, and Old Glory never had more patriotic and ardent defenders than have gone forth from Washington county to uphold and maintain the spirit of liberty on land and on sea.

Rich in historical associations that are great in peace as well as in war, the Washington centennial celebration will appeal to every loyal citizen of the county. The history of Washington during the past century is the history of the whole country, and its achievements are ample cause for the jubilee that is accorded this felicitous anniversary.

What it Means

The closing of the Eclipse mine above Charleroi on account of low water in the Ohio river is but one of the many examples of the checks to industry in this community because of the lack of inland waterways improvements. At this particular time the shutdown is unfortunate, as this mine in connection with those of the river district at large has been having an unusually good run this season. Because of the strike in the Illinois and other fields the mines of the Pittsburg district have been running unusually good this summer. But for that, operators say this would have been an unusually slack season in mining circles throughout this district.

From this it will be seen how important to this section is the policy of the improvement of the Ohio river to which the Government is committed to complete within the next twelve years. In a recent speech President Taft expressed the hope that this time might be shortened to six years. This cannot be accomplished unless Congress is in accord with the President's views on this subject. This is why it is important that Republicans should support Charles Matthews for Congress from this district this fall. Mr. Matthews has been nominated to succeed Congressman J. K. Tener as representative for this district, and he is eminently qualified to look after the interests so important to the river district and the industrial development of the whole community. The continuation of the river improvement policy means a whole lot to the coal mining interests of the valley.

What Would They Do?

Touching upon the Democratic campaign charge of Republican extravagance President Taft in his masterly speech before the National Republican League in New York Saturday declared that the net expense for running the government was not over a billion dollars but about $650,000,000 annually. The Postoffice Department alone whose appropriation is $250,000,000 is self-sustaining practically. In this connection the President pertinently inquires:

"Our Democratic friend are saying that if the Democratic party came into power it would reduce the expenses of this Government $300,000,000. Do they mean that the Democrats would abolish the pension list? Do they mean that they would give up the navy and disband the army? Do they mean that they would abandon Porto Rico and the Sandwich Islands and the Philippines? Let us have a little specification. What are such statements worth unless the gentlemen who make them give just the details of the expenditures that they criticise and expect to avoid if they are left into power and become themselves the National Government?"

It would not be surprising if Walter Brookins should take a notion he would like to see Charleroi and fly over here. The chances are he would rather stay here than in Washington, anyhow.

WHY NOT GET RID OF CATARRH

Do you sneeze often?
Is your breath foul?
Are your eyes watery?
Do you take cold easily?
Is your nose stopped up?
Do you have to spit often?
Do crusts form in your nose?
Are you losing your sense of smell?
Do you blow your nose a great deal?
Does your mouth taste bad mornings?
Do you have to clear your throat on rising, or have a discharge from the nose?
Does mucus drop in back of throat?
Have you ringing noises in the ears?

Hyomei (pronounce it High-o-me) is guaranteed to cure catarrh, cough colds, sore throat, bronchitis, asthma and croup or money back. Just breathe it in. The Cry of the Age is "Back to the Farm"

With the best market in the world at his door, the intensive farmer located in the Monongahela valley is the wise man of his generation.

Every town has as much need of the small truck, fruit and poultry farms around it as it has for more factories. Such farms make living better and cheaper for the laboring man and more business for the merchant.

I have secured control of a large farm within five minutes walk of the borough limits and will, within the next six weeks, sell it out in small farms. I now have purchasers for about one-half of it and owing to the great demand for small farms near Charleroi expect to close all sales for these farms in a very short time.

A farm big enough for all the boys to work as a truck, poultry and fruit farm while the father works at the mill, can be bought for the price of a cheap town lot. Good country school nearby.

A farm big enough to require the whole time of one intensive farmer can be bought for $500.00. Read the Pittsburg papers about the great land show which will be held there within the next few weeks and learn what can be raised on a few acres of ground by the new methods of intensive farming.

Call at the office of Charles O. Frye, 511 Washington Avenue, and get full particulars.

indorsements on the grounds that the Republican candidates are not for local option, although none of the Democratic candidates have thus declared themselves. On the other hand, this action of indorsing Democratic candidates for Congress and the Legislature is not relished by the Keystoners of Lawrence county, who, while supporting Berry, are dead against Wilson and strong for Matthews, the Republican candidate for Congress, and the two Republican candidates for the Legislature. Acheson, however got the Keystone committee at Philadelphia to indorse Wilson, and his name will appear on the entire Keystone ticket in the district. The Lawrence county Keystoners will instruct their workers to cut Wilson, and this action will not win for them many Democratic votes, and at the same time will lose them many Republicans who might have voted for Berry on State issues had not Acheson and his crowd of soreheads tried to lug their personal animosities into the campaign.

Since Grim, the Democratic candidate for Governor, has refused to withdraw with Berry and effect a fusion with the Keystone ticket, the few Republican papers that have been knocking the candidacy of Tener make no effort to conceal their chagrin. Among these are the Philadephia, North American, the Pittsburg Leader, and the smaller fry, the Washington Observer and Reporter. Since they now see that all hopes of a fighting chance for the head of the ticket are gone, these papers are advising the Keystoners to redouble their effort against the Republican candidates for Congress and the Legislature, as that is the only blow they can hope to inflict on the Republican party in the State.

As a matter of fact none of these papers are really for Berry: they are simply against the State administration, and they are knocking Tener, not to help Berry so much as to oppose the State Republican organization. None of these larger papers will go so far as to jeopardize their standing as Republican organs, but at the same time they represent minority factions and propose to knock until things come their way. When the Pittsburg Leader representative was in Charleroi at the time of the opening of the campaign, he was asked by the Mail representative if his paper proposed to support Berry.

"No," he replied, "we don't like Berry.

"Will you support Grim?"

"No, we're Republicans."

"What are you going to do, then"

"Knock; just simply knock. We're agin' the present administration and propose to knock it."

To a prominent Pittsburg newspaper man some of the Philadelphia North American people confided that that paper would not support Berry on his merits, as it was a hopeless cause, but they would express their disapproval of the present State administration in every possible manner. As for the Acheson papers, they are simply out for revenge, and would sacrifice the interests of the entire county and district in order that Mr. Acheson might "lay a little flattering unction to his soul."

In the meantime the Tener campaign is progressing smoothly, and Mr. Tener is gaining ground everywhere he goes. He was at New Castle last night, and will be in Sharon this evening. He will be in Washington Friday, which is distinguished visitors day on the centennial program, and will finish the week in the western part of the State.

Slight Damage

But little damage was done by a small fire which broke out this afternoon at 2 o'clock on the shingle roof of James Thompson's residence at 21 Third street. A Hussey-Binns volunteer fire brigade by the aid of the plants fire fighting apparatus extinguish the flames before the quick arrival of the fire department.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

A Tree Cut Down by Rifle Bullets.

In the sanguinary annals of the American war there was no more sanguinary episode than the fight in 1864 of "the Bloody Angle at Spotsylvania." "Every bush and every sapling that constituted the thicket there," says Mr. G. C. Eggleston in his "History of the Confederate War," "was cut away by a stream of bullets as grass is before a mower's scythe. Even an oak tree nearly two feet thick was worn in two near its base by the continual and incessant stroke of leaden balls until it fell, crushing some of the Confederates who were fighting beneath its [illegible]"

SAVED DAUGHTER'S LIFE

This Father Refused to Let His Daughter Die

Here is a story with a moral that many parents might take to heart.

My daughter was very pale, nervous, thin, and suffered with severe pain in her back, so that we took her out of school. Her flesh became blue and she could not retain her urine. I spent over $100 for medicines, but she grew worse. Finally bought a bottle of Thompson's Barosma and she began to grow better right away. Five bottles of Thompson's Barosma made a complete cure, and today she is a perfectly healthy.

Thompson's Barosma saved her life, for she was failing so fast that death was not far off."—Frank D. Meeder, Pleasantville, Pa.

This letter will not surprise many good people in Charleroi and vicinity who know from actual experience what Thompson's Barosma, the safe and sane treatment and certain cure for all kidney, liver and bladder diseases, will do.

If you are troubled with backache, side ache, weakness in the back, or any liver or kidney trouble, then it's time for Thompson's Barosma.

W. F. Hennings sells Thompson's Barosma in two sizes, 50 cents and $1 00 and he guarantees it to cure Bright's disese, diabetes, high colored urine, bed-wetting, and all other kidney and liver disease. It will make anyone vigorous in a few weeks, because it is a great tonic and maker of rich red blood.
